Attn: B.Tech (CSE, IT) Final Year Students (Batch-2015).

Subject: Shortlisted Students for Recruitment Drive of Aspiring Minds

Aspiring Minds is conducting a recruitment drive for B.Tech (CSE, IT) Final Year students. Shortlisted students and other relevant details are as follows:

About the company:

Aspiring Minds, India's foremost assessment company is hiring engineers (Batch of 2011-2015) for its technology team - Research & Development Engineer and Product Engineer. The offered package for both roles is 14 Lacs per annum (details mentioned below).

Research: We want to hire the best engineering minds in the country to participate in active research and development with us to build the products of tomorrow. Our product development requires going in-depth of machine learning (artificial intelligence) algorithms and combines it with various computer science areas such as speech recognition, program analysis, computational linguistics and embedded systems. We develop our products with a deep focus on the science behind it and are driven by the statistical validation of all our results.

Product: Our core product team is engaged in building the world's largest assessment-driven recruitment marketplace. The team focuses on developing scalable architecture, user experience and optimizations for high user engagement. The candidate will get an opportunity to work in small focused team with mentorship of IIT-alumni in building world-class products. They will take responsibility, design things from scratch and see their ideas implemented in actual products.
