STUDENTS INDUCTION PROGRAMME 2025 (AS PER AICTE GUIDELINES)

As per AICTE guidelines, a three-week students' induction programme (SIP) for B.Tech first year students was organized at RKGIT from 28 August 2025 to 20 September 2025. The programme aimed to help students smoothly transition into college life by familiarizing them with the academic environment, institutional culture, values, and holistic development opportunities.

The programme commenced with an orientation ceremony on 28.08.25, beginning with Deep Prajwalan and Saraswati Vandana. The students were welcomed and guided by senior dignitaries including the director, Group Advisor, Executive Director, Deans, and Dean Student Welfare. Students were briefed about academic rules, discipline, campus facilities, transport, hostels, and support systems, followed by a campus visit.

Throughout the Induction period, students attended bridge course classes, mentor-mentee interactions, and sessions introducing various B.Tech branches, curriculum structure, evaluation schemes, and institutional policies. Special emphasis was laid on human values and professional ethics, with sessions conducted by AICTE-approved resource persons focusing on ethical living, confident decision-making, empathy, and professional responsibility.

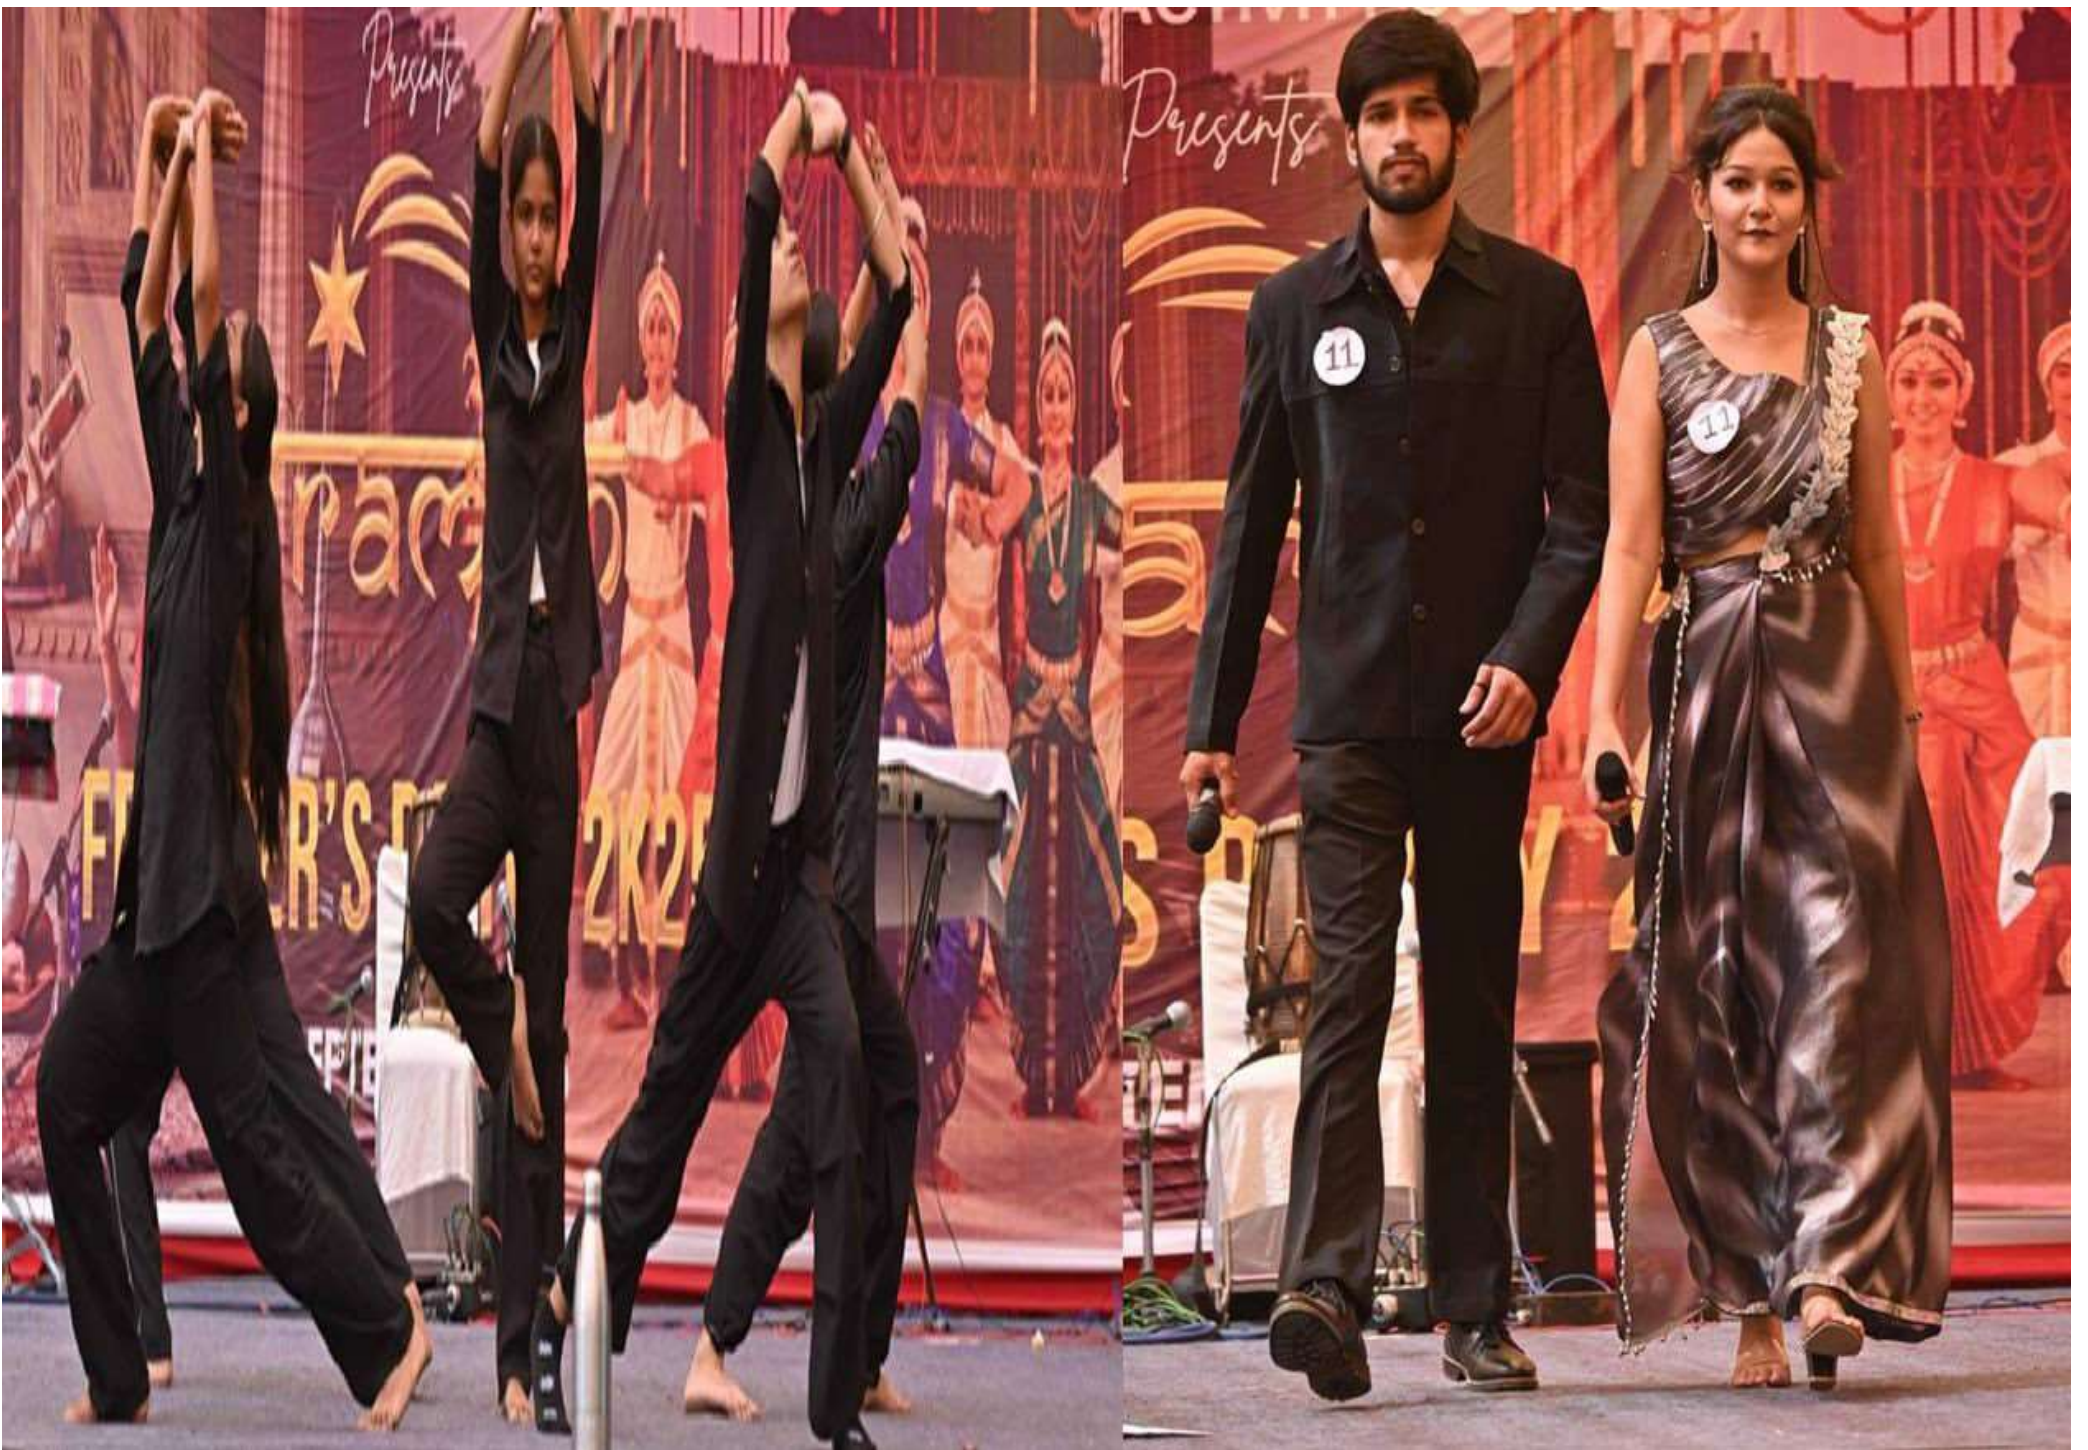

The programme also included Yoga and Wellness sessions, language lab activities, English proficiency assessment, and proficiency classes to enhance students' academic readiness. Literary activities such as group discussions, extempore, spin-a-yarn, and public speaking were organized to build communication skills and confidence. Cultural and sports activities promoted creativity, teamwork, inclusivity, and physical fitness. Hostel students were taken on a local area visit for better adjustment to the surroundings. An interaction session with parents was conducted towards the end of the programme, where feedback and suggestions were discussed for Students welfare. The induction programme concluded with a Freshers' party on 20th September 2025, celebrating the successful completion of the three-week orientation.

Overall, the students' induction programme proved to be highly effective in motivating students, instilling values, and preparing them academically, socially, and emotionally for their journey at RKGIT.

अंधी सड़क के उस पार खड़ी थी हिंदी, कोई जाओ उसको
रास्ता पार कराओ,
इस पार ले आओ उसको,
उसका मान दिलाओ।

कभी माँ की थपकी-सी मधुर थी उसकी बोली,
कभी दोस्ती की गली में हँसी-सी थी भोली,
आज वही हिंदी तन्हा खड़ी है,
अपनों के बीच भी परायी बड़ी है।

भीड़ अंग्रेज़ी शब्दों की चकाचौंध में बह गई,
पर हिंदी कहीं अंदर ही अंदर रह गई,
जैसे दिल धड़कता है पर कोई सुन नहीं पाता,
वैसे ही हिंदी है पुकारती ,
कोई उत्तर नहीं आता।

हिंदी सिर्फ़ भाषा नहीं,
पहचान है,
आत्मा की गहराइयों से उठी एक जान है,
इसके बिना मिट्टी अधूरी है,
इसमें ही तो अपनी जड़ें मजबूती से जुड़ी हैं।

आओ इसे नया रूप दें,
दें नया सम्मान,
न हो अब इसे शर्मिंदगी का एहसान,
मिलकर इसके गीत को फिर से गाएँ,
अपनी जड़ों से रिश्ता फिर निभाएँ।

अंधी सड़क के उस पार खड़ी है हिंदी,
आओ इसको रास्ता पार कराए,
इस पार लेकर आए इसको ,
इसका मान दिलाए।

THE TALE OF SURRENDER TO SELF

This is it...
Now is the time
to surrender to the ocean beyond the world—
the vast, endless ocean of self.
This is where before ends
and after begins.
Once I step inside,
the outer world loosens its grip,
and I belong only to myself.

As I enter it,
it is nothing less than heaven—
quiet, serene, and full of peace.
As I move forward,
I see something...
a little girl.
She seems to be well-
rounded, fulfilling the expectations of people
known and unknown.
Radiant as the sun,
carrying smiles so easily—
such an innocent soul.

Suddenly, darkness emerged.
I panicked.
What I saw shook me to my core.
As this little girl grew up,
the world tore her apart.
She was severed and shattered,
lost to the world.

All her spark was gone.
She, who was once full of life,
was now lifeless on the inside.

I was vulnerable.
I was infuriated by what the world had done to her.
I couldn't hold my tears
back—
I wanted to run to her,
to pull her into my arms,
to hold her safe.

But as I stepped forward,
I saw her fading into the deep ocean.
I ran toward her.
She had to be saved.
I yelled.
I screamed.
But she was gone.

And then—
I went completely numb.
I sank to the ocean floor,
weak and broken,
drowning in guilt,
lying still at the bed of everything I couldn't save.

Thereafter she came the goddess of the ocean—
the divine, most powerful soul
I had ever seen.
I gasped.
She stared and smiled at me.
The next moment,
I was in her arms.
I cried my eyes out,
melting into her embrace.

Soon, my tears went away.
I smiled back at her,
thanked her,
surrendered myself to her.
Hand in hand, we walked.

I saved her.
The girl was me.
Everything felt light.
Everything felt peaceful.
I felt more powerful than ever.
I'm finally free of the living illusion—
woven by the world.

In the end, the goddess I sought
was never out there...
All along, I had saved myself.
